

The 37th Medieval Festival of Provins

Discover the biggest medieval festival of France!

Provins, medieval city listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site since December 2001, will celebrate the 37th of its medieval festival on the 13 and 14 June 2020.

Join the dance with the promising theme:

" Builders of the Middle Ages "

The Medieval Festival of Provins is a real historic reconstitution of the most famous Fairs of Champagne for which Provins became renowned in the 12th and 13th centuries. To celebrate them properly, craftsmen and merchants will gather in Provins to share with you crafts and products of yesteryear: leather and stone work, artwork, fabrics, spices, armour, calligraphy, musical instruments, etc.

Tournaments, jousts, games, music, tales, legends and street shows, not forgetting the classics of the festival: the traditional medieval ball on the place du Châtel, a big medieval concert and the great parade with more than 700 people in medieval costume.

During 2 days, minstrels, acrobats and entertainers will make you live an unusual experience, a trip back into time, and this in Provins, only one hour from Paris!

48 hours of amazement for the whole family!
